2010 Alexander Valley Cabernet Sauvignon

Sourced from grapes grown in Healdsburg's Alexander Valley, the wine was fermented in small open top tanks with three hand punch-downs per day. After aging in 50% new, medium-toast French Oak barrels for two and a half years it was bottled in February, 2013.

Tasting notes:

A classic Alexander Valley Cabernet with aromas of black cherry, cedar and cassis. Similar flavors meld with the soft tannins resulting in a finely balanced wine with a long, satisfying finish.
